WORLD WAR TWO POST-MORTEM

Missing in Action (M.I.A.s)
The U.S.A. had a total of 80,000 M.I.A.s during World War Two.

- World War Two: 80,000 or 20% of the 400,000 lost.
- Korean War: 8,000 or 15% of the 54,000 lost.
- Vietnam: 2,200 or 4% of the 58,000 lost.

Concentration Camps
Dachau: First concentration camp set up by the Nazis (1935).
Auschwitz: The most lethal death camp, up to 5,000 gassed per day.
Bergen-Belsen The Beast of Belsen and her "lamp shades" from tattooed skin.

There were many other camps such as Theresienstadt, Sobibor, and Buchenwald throughout Europe. In all, over 12 million people who didn't fit into Hitler's Aryan Super Race were exterminated. Besides six million Jews there were Political opponents, Slavs, Gypsies, Homosexuals, the Mentally ill, the physically handicapped, etc.

RAVENSBURG

At no time did the United States bomb the camps or the railroad lines leading to the camps.

Prior to the gas chambers, the Nazis often marched thousands of victims into the forest for mass execution in mass graves as in the Babi Yar Massacre.

Not all of the mass executions in Eastern Europe were perpetrated by the Nazis. The massacre at Katyn Forest (11,000 bodies), although blamed on the Nazis for almost 50 years, was eventually blamed on the Soviets.

War Criminals
Adolf Hitler: Ten days before V-E Day, Hitler and his new bride Eva Braun committed dual suicide in their Bunker. Hitler was afraid that if captured he would be put in a cage, and then put on display around the world.

Dr. Josef Goebbels: Hitler's Minister of Propaganda Josef Goebbels and his wife Magda Goebbels poisoned their seven children, then committed joint suicide.

Heinrich Himmler: The man in charge of the Final Solution committed suicide rather than submit to capture. IN CHARGE OF THE S.S.

THE S.S. (REPLACED THE BROWNSHIRTS)

GESTAPO (SECRET POLICE)
WAFFEN SS (ELITE SOLDIERS)
CONCENTRATION CAMPS
HERMANN

Goering: Air Marshall Goering was in charge of the Luftwaffe. He committed suicide while in captivity, thus eluding the hangman’s rope.

Adolf Eichmann: S.S. Officer Eichmann found sanctuary in South America until Israeli Nazi hunters kidnapped him in 1960. After having bragged about his efficiency in helping to exterminate 5 million people, he was hanged (1962).

Dr. Josef Mengele: The "Doctor of Death" found sanctuary in South America until his death of natural causes in the late 1980s. Mengele was notorious for the medical experimentation he performed on Jews during the War.

Klaus Barbie: Known as the "Butcher of Lyon" for sending thousands of French Jews to their death, Barbie eluded arrest for 40 years. His post-war freedom was made possible by the United States which felt that Barbie was more valuable as an anti-Communist agent than as a convicted war criminal.

Benito Mussolini: In 1945, Mussolini was captured by Italian partisans and strung up by his heels alongside his mistress. Both of their bodies were defiled by angry partisans. This display firmed up Hitler’s resolve not to be captured alive.

Hideki Tojo: At the Japanese War Tribunal, Tojo was charged with war crimes for having ordered an illegal attack on the U.S. Fleet at Pearl Harbor. He was hanged in 1948.

Hirohito: The Emperor Hirohito was more valuable alive than dead. Therefore, his image was restructured to justify allowing him to stay alive and on the throne until 1989, instead of being hanged as a war criminal in 1948.

WAR HEROES

Dwight Eisenhower: Commander of the Allied Forces during the invasion of Normandy (D-Day).

Douglas Mac Arthur: In command of Military operations in the Pacific Campaign against the Japanese Empire.

Erwin Rommel: German Field Marshall Rommel, "The Desert Fox," was admired and respected by Germans and the Allies alike. In 1944, having taken part in an assassination attempt on Hitler, he was forced to commit suicide.

"July 20th Plot"
WORLD WAR TWO POST-MORTEM (continued page 3)

Yamamoto: Admiral Yamamoto was the naval genius of the Japanese Empire. Fortunately he carried most of the naval plans in his head. Therefore, when an air-assassination team was sent to murder him over the Solomon Islands in 1943, it was a major blow to the Japanese navy. Yamamoto, like Rommel, was highly respected by the Allies.

United States begins the Cold War
The United States became the number one economic and trading power in the world, replacing Britain.

The United States became Internationalist rather than isolationist, joining the United Nations(1945) and NATO(1949).

The United States launched the Cold War(1945-1991).
The Military-Industrial-Complex would be maintained
The secret intelligence agency, the OSS, would be restructured into the CIA(1947).

De-colonization
World War Two marked the beginning of the end of overseas empire.
The British would be kicked out of India
The Dutch would be kicked out of Indonesia
The French would be kicked out of Indo-china (Southeast Asia)
The Britain, France, Belgium would be kicked out of Africa

IRON CURTAIN
Dr. Goebbels tried to get a separate peace with the United States and Britain in 1945 with the idea that they could join forces and attack the Soviet Union. He warned that an Iron Curtain would descend over Europe if we did not heed his advice.

Winston Churchill in a speech given at Fulton, Missouri in 1946 warned the Free World that an Iron Curtain had descended across Europe from the Baltics to the Balkans.

THE POLISH IRONY
World War Two began when Britain and France declared war on Germany due to its invasion of Poland.
With the conclusion of World War Two, Poland would not be much better off as it fell behind the Iron Curtain and would be subjugated by the Soviets until 1989.
